

ALNUS SERRULATA Hazel Alder: Song Bird Cover for Moist Sites.

This handsome shrub is commonly found streamside or on shorelines, and can form thickets in shallow water or saturated soil. Its foliage is a glossy dark green and it will grow in sun to shade as long as the site is moist. It is a 'nitrogen-fixer' which means it can grow in low-nutrient soils and provide nutrient to other species.

If you have a moist or wet site you can create a wonderful habitat area for songbirds and wildlife using Hazel Alder, Swamp Rose, ButtonBush, and Clethra. All of these plants are in stock now, and 10% off through Friday August 15. Shop early for best selection.

Saturday August 9 10 AM
Nature Photography

Scott Brenner, local photographer and Dan's Camera City expert. Scott will present a short primer on basic composition, types of lighting (Sun, Shade, Overcast) and how to use them to your advantage or modify light in simple and inexpensive ways.

The presentation will be followed by a hands-on photo session at the nursery. Scott will walk around and give one on one advice to participants as they explore the photographic opportunities here with the many demonstration gardens. Registration is only $10. Sign up in person at the nursery or HERE.

Saturday August 23 11 AM - 12:30
Native Edibles

EOTW Horticulturist Liz Stauffer will reprise her popular talk on native edibles. From teas to munchies, and blueberries to nuts, she'll cover a range of information on edible uses for native plants. This popular talk always fills up. Early Bird registration of $8 through August 13. Sign up in person at the nursery or HERE.
