

Gaultheria procumbens

Wintergreen

- 3 to 6 inches tall, spreads 6 to 12 inches
- Part sun / shade
- Moist to dry, acidic soil
- Evergreen groundcover. Edible red berries
- Bell-shaped, white flowers with a pink tinge appear in summer
- Leaves turn reddish color with cold weather. When crushed the leaves emit a wintergreen fragrance.

