

Rubus hispidus Swamp dewberry

- 3 to 6 inches tall on average
- Spreads up to 8 feet
- Partial shade ideal; full shade tolerable
- Moist to wet soils, avg soil moisture okay in shade
- Close relative of blackberries; but rather a running groundcover. Berries are produced only on female plants.

