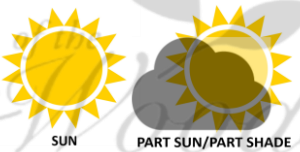
May – June

Aronia arbutifolia

Red Chokeberry



- 6 to 10 feet tall
- 4 to 8 feet spread
- Full sun to part shade
- Wet to dry, fertile soils
- Tolerates clay, drought, flood, and salt
- White flowers in spring, followed by showy red berries that appear in late summer and persist thru winter until birds eat them
- Scarlet, orange-red fall foliage color
- Larval host for coral hairstreak